

INNOCELL.

Mrs. Marg. Kennedy,
Taken ill on street,
Arrested as Drunk.

Twenty-eight Hours in a Station
House Without Necessary
Attendance.

Sly Was the Policeman's Name, and
He "Thought" She Was Intoxicated.

HIS EVIDENCE RELEASED HER.

Family Physician and Neighbors Testify to the Good Character and Industry of This Victim of a Patrol-man's Error.

Mrs. Margaret Kennedy, fifty-five years old, a wife for thirty-three years, the mother of three grown up children, with whom she lives, was arrested Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock on a charge of intoxication. She lay in a Madison Street Station House cell from the hour of her arrest until yesterday morning, when she was taken in the court wagon, with the station's other arrests, to Essex Market Court. Patrolman Sly arrested her and was her accuser in court. She was evidently ill when called from the "cage" in which prisoners awaiting treatment are confined. Her face was wretchedly pale, her lips were blue, her eyes sunken, and she almost lay before her daughter, Mamie, reached her side and embraced her with loving arms. Trembling and scarce comprehending what was going on, she mounted the bridge. The patrolman said he had found her leaning against an iron railing in front of No. 113 Monroe street. He had asked her what she was doing there. She did not answer, and he called an ambulance, in which she was taken to the station house. "Why did you arrest her?" Magistrate Braun asked.

"Because I thought she was drunk," "Was she drunk?" "Yes, I think she was," he said at last. "Discharged," was the Magistrate's comment. "I have known Mrs. Kennedy for ten years," said Dr. Hogan, of Henry and Rutgers streets. "She is thoroughly respectable. Her husband does not drink, and has been under my care for some time suffering from chronic indigestion. She called on me Tuesday morning and I prescribed for her. She was very weak and ill."

"Tuesday afternoon I felt so dizzy and sick," said Mrs. Kennedy, "that I went to the back shop, hoping the trip into the fresh air would do me some good. We live on the fifth floor of No. 113 Monroe street—my two girls, a boy and I. When I got down on the street I was suffering horribly from cramps. I leaned against the railing, almost doubled with pain and feeling that I must hold on to the rail or fall. My head was going round and round, and I felt that I must hold on. I heard the policeman speak to me, but I couldn't answer him. I didn't care for anything, and the world but to get out of that awful pain. "I tried to convince the people in the station house that I was ill, but they wouldn't listen to me. They kept me there in that cell for twenty-eight hours. My daughters and boy were at work when I went away from home in the afternoon. When they came home they found me there. The neighbors told them what had happened to me, and they went around to the station house, but they were not allowed to see me. Mamie cooked up some supper and took it to the station house. They let me have the food, which I could not eat, being so ill, but some coffee, which she never reached me, although I needed something hot. I got no attention during my stay in the station house, and was treated just like a common woman. Mrs. Kennedy's neighbors speak in the highest terms of her thrift, industry and good character. Patrolman Sly would make no statement, but that he had made to Magistrate Braun—he thought Mrs. Kennedy was drunk.

THAIN SENT TO PRISON.

The Inspector Blamed by Constable for the Madison Avenue Disaster Surrenders Himself.

John Thain, the building inspector who is declared by Building Superintendent Constable to have been grossly negligent in regard to the inspection of the Madison Avenue building that collapsed last Saturday, surrendered himself to Coroner Fitzpatrick yesterday, and was held in $1,000 bail. He was sent to the Tombs late in the afternoon. Thain declined to make any statement.

Lawrence Shannon, of the firm of Shannon & Roche, the contractors, who had charge of the superstructure, also surrendered himself, and was directed to furnish $25,000 bail. He was sent to the Tombs. Both prisoners expect to have secured bail by this morning. Mrs. Lucy A. Rogers, the owner of the building, visited the Coroner's office. She had nothing to do with the construction of the building, and was therefore told that she was held in no way responsible. Inspector Lotthuer delivered at the Coroner's office some samples of mortar taken from the foundation that will be kept sealed until the inquest.

Fred B. Hawkins, the agent of the building, has not yet been arrested. He has written his attorney that he will not be able to secure a bondsman he will surrender himself. This letter was forwarded to the Coroner.

Although many lives have been lost by the collapsing of buildings in this city since the Buddenlock disaster, ten years ago, there has not been such a disaster as the one which resulted from the collapse of the Madison Avenue building.

President J. Edward Simmons, of the Fourth National Bank, was complainant in the Centre Street Court yesterday against Joseph Bauer, seventeen years of age, of No. 347 East Seventy-second street. Monday last Bauer, who was working in the bank president's residence as an electrician's assistant, stole a pair of diamond neck links, a Masonic bow chain and a diamond ring, all valued at $280. These he pawned for $55. When taken in court and returned $50 and the pawn tickets. Magistrate Wentworth held him in $1,000 for trial.

Assault Costs John L. $25.
Boston, Sept. 30.—John L. Sullivan, the ex-champion pugilist, was fined $25 in the Roxbury Municipal Court this forenoon for an assault upon a street car conductor two weeks ago.

Good Templars' European Tour.
Arrangements have been completed for several hundred members of the Independent Order of Good Templars from all parts of the United States to take an extended trip to Europe during next May, June and July. The tour will include England, Belgium, Germany and Switzerland, with a protracted stay at Zurich during the international convention, which will be held in June. After the convention quite a number of the Templars will make a special tour of Scandinavia, and then return to Stockholm during the session of the Grand Lodge. Henry Gase & Sons have charge of the arrangements.

ALMOST A BOWERY RIOT.

"Human No. 2" Company and Ex-Manager Goodman's Troubles Cause a Row at the Liberty Theatre.

There was almost a riot at the Liberty Theatre, No. 104 Bowery, last night, at about 7 o'clock. For the past three weeks a company under the management of Sigmond Mogleske has been playing "Human No. 2, or the Foolish King." Manager Joseph Goodman leased the theatre until October 1 and booked the "Foolish King" company. The company gave good performances to crowded houses, but it is said, Mr. Goodman didn't pay salaries.

Mr. Mogleske, who is the light comedian of the company, arranged with Mr. Goodman that $50 should be turned over after each performance to the company, which should have a man in the box office and take the first $50.

Several nights ago Mr. Goodman stopped paying the $50, and trouble broke out afresh. The owner of the theatre, dispossessed Goodman yesterday afternoon. The company then leased the house until Sunday, and opened up the box office prepared to sell tickets. Goodman, however, sent a few henchmen before 7 o'clock, and demanded of Mogleske $500, saying that unless the amount was forthcoming he would close up the house.

The excited gesticulations of the pair drew a crowd. The doorkkeepers ran to their new manager's rescue. The crowd kept increasing and a riot occurred immediately when two policemen reached the theatre, but after some persuasive eloquence on the part of the policemen and Mogleske, Goodman took $25 and departed.

That ended the trouble, and at 8:30 o'clock the curtain rose and the play went on.

ROBBED IN A HOSPITAL.

Attendant Thurbur Disappears with $7.15 That Belonged to Peter Macy, an Injured Man.

Peter Macy, of No. 161 East Ninety-ninth street, was ejected from his flat by his brother-in-law on Tuesday night. The brother-in-law was taking Macy's part in a family quarrel. Macy's scalp was cut. He was arrested and taken to Harlem Hospital.

Macy told Magistrate Wudlich, in Harlem Court, yesterday, that when at the East One Hundred and Fourth Street Station he asked the Sergeant to take charge of $7.15. The Sergeant replied that it would be perfectly safe in the hospital.

Frank Thurbur, an inmate of the workhouse on Blackwell's Island, in accordance with the custom of detaining workhouse inmates to help about the city hospitals, was sent to Harlem Hospital. He put Macy to bed, and obligingly offered to take charge of the $7.15. When Macy asked for his money in the morning he was directed to the office, but the money was not there. Superintendent Freeborn found that Thurbur had disappeared.

Magistrate Knudlich commented on the case by saying that it was queer that such persons as Thurbur should be allowed to take charge of valuables in a public institution. "One might as well let the prisoners collect fines in a police court," Macy was discharged by the Magistrate.

WATCHMAN RAN DOWN.

Aged Michael Kelly Nearly Killed by a Truck—Driver While Guarding the Asphalt Bicycle Strip in Hudson Street.

Another case of reckless driving, this time intentional, nearly finished the career of old Michael H. Kelly, of No. 538 Warren street, Brooklyn, yesterday. Kelly, who is eighty-three years old, is employed by the Department of Public Works, and was yesterday placed at the Beach street crossing, on the west side of Hudson street, to guard the new bicycle path, the asphalt of which had not yet become hard. A truckman came along, and when Kelly took hold of the bridle of one of the horses the driver cracked his whip and the horse plunged forward, knocking the old watchman to the ground. The truckman continued to apply his whip and drove off, leaving Kelly unconscious in the street. Mrs. Kelly's neighbors speak in the highest terms of her thrift, industry and good character. Patrolman Sly would make no statement, but that he had made to Magistrate Braun—he thought Mrs. Kennedy was drunk.

He was arrested September 3 on the complaint of William J. Colver, who charged him with the larceny of two notes, but was discharged.

"ALL WORKED OUT."

The Lesson in the Death Roll of Our Great Men.

Dr. Greene's Nervura a Protection Against Premature Death.

Great Value of Strong, Vigorous Nerves and Pure Blood.

In the death of great and gifted men and women, who have filled the public mind and who are held in tender and tearful remembrance, how many have gone because they were "worked out." It is a lengthy and a sad list. We can easily recall many, who we have personally known, who have seemed to wear their precious lives out all too soon because their deaths were premature.

They were not worked out; they were tired out, exhausted. They stopped because they could go no greater physical lengths. Why? Their vitality was vitiated and lost. Long years ago, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th st., New York City, studying this deep problem, discovered the exact cause and once so covered its correction. He found the seat of health to be strength and vigor of nerves and pure blood, and determined to discover a remedy that the world feels their loss keenly for its sudden ending.

He found the seat of health to be strength and vigor of nerves and pure blood, and determined to discover a remedy that would re-energize the nerves and purify and enrich the blood when both become weakened, and to prevent, if taken in time, such relapse of physical force. He succeeded to such an extent that Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy has gained a world-wide reputation through its wonderful cures and the benefits it has conferred on the thousands who have used it. In its study of this subject he has also become the leading and most thorough on blood and nervous ailments.

He charges no fee for his opinion, and can consequently be consulted free of charge by letter or in person. If you are "worked out," if weak, nervous, run-down or you feel "out of sorts," or if you want to avoid the ill, weakness and exhaustion, so sure to come, don't delay. Get this grand restorer of health and strength, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, at once, and it will make you well.

CEYLON AND INDIA TEA.

"Coffee that makes the politician wise And peer at all things with half-closed eyes."

The effect of Coffee On the nerves and temper was thus written of 200 years ago. This is as true now as it was then. We are all politicians to-day. Can we stand the strain of politics and coffee combined? Both are bad on the nerves.

Till After Election Try the soothing effect of India and Ceylon tea. Its absolute purity, and the fact that it is untouched by hand in the course of manufacture, makes it a pleasant table beverage either for breakfast, lunch or dinner. If you commence using it you will continue it even after the momentous issues of this campaign are settled.

Directions. See that the water boils, but never boil the tea. Only half the quantity of India and Ceylon tea is required as compared with China and Japan. For iced tea add lemon to taste.
